Nancy Carnevale, M.Ed., a National Board Certified Teacher of English as New Language (ENL) invested her 38-year career in supporting urban ELLs and their families. She exemplified the “can-do” philosophy. She serves as a model of best practices in urban education for ELLs. A lifelong advocate for children, she took every opportunity to acquire the latest ELL teaching practices so that she could promote success for her students in every way possible. She is honored for her passion, her love for and unwavering dedication to her students, her collaborative nature and for her clarity of vision that teaching is most successful when you “teach from the heart.”

Nancy passed away in 2011. Since 2012, RITELL has awarded The Nancy A. Carnevale Grant annually to a classroom teacher who exemplifies Nancy’s life and career. The teacher receives $500 to fund a classroom project supporting English Learners. The initial funds raised for this award at the time of Nancy’s untimely passing will not be sufficient to support the award after this year’s cycle of funding. Your contribution will go towards continuing this worthy funding. The 2018 Nancy Carnevale ELL Teacher Award for Excellence in Teaching will be presented at the RITELL Fall Conference at RIC on Saturday, October 20th.

If you are unable to attend the wine and cheese event on October 18th, but would like to contribute in Nancy’s memory, you can make your check payable to RITELL including in the memo line: Nancy Carnevale Grant Donation and mail to: Cathy Fox, 21 Mashuena Dr., Warwick, RI 02888 or you may contribute online using this link: Nancy Carnevale Memorial Donation.
